About me

I've been preparing for a career transition for about 2 years now, specializing myself to work as a Product Manager, specifically in the crypto space. I love blockchain technology, and I've been quite active in the crypto community ever since 2017. I have experience in many different areas such as Social Communications, Programming, Product Management, Marketing, Automation, and Design. All of which give me flexibility to learn quickly, improve processes, and efficiently manage team workflow. I am an avid learner, and I'm always trying to perfect my knowledge, and broaden my horizon.
